What is a Battery State of Health Check?

This 30 minute test measures the battery capacity relative to when it was new and indicates the battery's state of health at the time of the test. Similar to how a smartphone's battery life diminishes over time, an electric car will offer a shorter range as it ages (also referred to as battery degradation).

Offered alongside the Inspection Service, this assessment provides you with the peace of mind, and clarity needed about your battery's performance. You'll receive a certificate confirming that your battery's health is above 70%, ensuring confidence in its performance and reliability. If the battery's capacity is below 70%, a further detailed diagnostic (at no extra cost) will be conducted to verify the result. Volkswagen's comprehensive battery warranty covers battery degradation and guarantees that the capacity of the battery will not fall below 70% within 8 years or 100,000 miles.
